

Membership in other Religions is Acceptable

A Realist can be a member of the Church of Reality and a member of another religion at the same time. We don't require exclusivity in order to be a Realist. There are other religions that are reality compatible religion. They are reality based or reality friendly. One such religion are the {In:nw:<http://www.uua.org> 'Unitarian Universalists'} who are accepting of all religions and a Realist can thrive in a Unitarian church while maintaining their commitment to reality. Some people have marital or cultural ties to other churches yet still believe in reality. In the Church of Reality we are happy if you can be a part-time Realist because some reality is better than none. Even if a person only thinks about reality for one minute a day they are still a Realist and are as entitled to the right to practice their religion as anyone else.
