

Death with Dignity

Everyone has a right to choose the manner in which they die and to have medical assistance to end one's life if they are terminally ill.